Launch Strategy

🚀 Launch Playbook: AI-Powered Content Generator for Founders

Build hype. Grow your waitlist. Launch with momentum.

🧩 1. Define Your Launch Narrative

Before posting or running ads, nail the story — your narrative is your magnet.

🎯 Core Narrative

> "I'm building an AI tool that helps founders turn their product ideas into social content — fast, on-brand, and consistent."

💬 Key Themes

- "Marketing shouldn't block building."
- "Founders deserve brand-consistent, easy content creation."
- "You focus on your product. Let AI handle the storytelling."

🧠 Tip

Use a build-in-public tone — humble, transparent, witty, and visually playful.

Make people feel like insiders, not spectators.

📅 2. Phase-Based Launch Plan

A 4-phase structure that builds curiosity → trust → hype → conversion.

Phase 1 — Awareness & Curiosity (Week 1–2)

Goal: Build awareness & tease the concept.

Output: Early engagement and intrigue.

🎨 Actions

- Post on X (Twitter), LinkedIn, and optionally Instagram.
- Share behind-the-scenes visuals (Figma sketches, brainstorm notes).
- Drop problem-based posts:
  - "Founders, how long does it take you to write a LinkedIn post?"
  - "I built an MVP but I'm terrible at marketing — anyone else?"
- Use snippets from your ideation board.
- Add 'Coming soon 👀' and link to your waitlist teaser.

⚡ Waitlist Page v1

Goal: Validate curiosity.

Sections:

1. Hero: "Create branded social content from your product idea — in 30 minutes."
2. Short teaser video or GIF (mockup-style is fine).
3. Waitlist form (name + email).
4. CTA: "Join the first 100 founders testing this."

Phase 2 — Build in Public (Week 3–5)

Goal: Build trust and community.

Output: Followers start rooting for your launch.

🎥 Actions

- Post product progress updates: "Today we connected Figma import 👇"
- Share design and UX decisions: "Here's why we ditched X to focus on Y."
- Run polls and open questions to engage the audience.
- Launch 'Founder Friday' threads: what you built, learned, or failed at.
- Introduce your branding & tone direction — show personality.

🧲 Bonus

- Celebrate waitlist milestones publicly ("🎉 500 founders joined!").
- DM early testers for exclusive invites.

Phase 3 — Hype & Pre-Launch (Week 6–7)

Goal: Build anticipation & push conversions.

Output: Rapid waitlist growth and social buzz.

🔥 Actions

- Drop a full teaser video showing real output.
- Run countdown content:
  - "7 days until founders get their first AI-generated content plan."
  - "Would you trust AI to speak in your brand voice? We'll show you how."
- Collaborate with founder communities (Reddit, IndieHackers, Slack).
- Offer exclusive perks for early users:
  - "Get your first month free + feedback slot with the team."

🧱 Waitlist Page v2

- Add testimonials (even short text quotes).
- Show product UI mockups.
- Add section: "What you'll get on launch day."
- Include referral CTA: "Refer a friend → move up the waitlist 🚀."

Phase 4 — Launch & Momentum (Week 8–10)

Goal: Convert attention into signups.

Output: Engagement, adoption, and credibility.

🎯 Launch Actions

- Publish launch post (LinkedIn, X, Reddit, Product Hunt).

- Run a “Launch Week Challenge”:

  > “Generate your first 5 posts in 30 minutes.”

- Encourage users to share results on social.
- Follow up with thank-you posts, insights, and roadmap previews.

🪄 Launch Collateral

- 30–60 sec demo video (playful tone).
- “How it works” carousel post.
- “Why we built this” story thread.
- Feature spotlight posts (Figma import, caption generator, etc.).

🧰 3. Content Strategy Overview

Type	Purpose	Example
🧠 Educational	Build authority	“Why founders fail at content consistency (and how AI fixes it)”
🎬 Behind-the-scenes	Build trust	“Here’s the design logic behind our generator UI”
😂 Relatable meme	Build reach	“When your startup has 1 user but 100 Canva drafts”
🧪 Build-in-public update	Build engagement	“We just shipped brand import from Figma — here’s the result 👇”
💌 Waitlist push	Convert	“Join 800 founders waiting for early access”

Posting cadence:

- 3–4 posts/week (X + LinkedIn).
- Mix: carousels, memes, threads, founder updates.
- Keep visual tone consistent and playful.

🌱 4. Waitlist Funnel Optimization

1. Top of Funnel (TOFU): Social posts + community engagement.
2. Middle (MOFU): Waitlist signup → confirmation email → "Welcome to early access club."
3. Bottom (BOFU): Weekly nurture emails:
    - Week 1: Founder story.
    - Week 2: Sneak peek (screenshots).
    - Week 3: Early user feedback or teaser demo.

> Keep it conversational, short, and visually branded.

💡 5. Tool Stack (Lean Setup)

Need	Tool
Waitlist / landing page	Typedream / Framer / Beehiiv / Umso
Email capture + automation	Beehiiv / ConvertKit / Loops.so
Visuals & templates	Figma + Notion brand kit
Scheduling posts	Typefully / Taplio / Buffer
Analytics	Plausible / SimpleAnalytics
Community testing	Reddit, IndieHackers, Slack groups

⚙️ 6. Metrics to Track

Metric	Goal	Why
Waitlist signups	1,000+ before launch	Measure top-of-funnel demand
Email open rate	>45%	Gauge engagement
CTR from social	>5%	Validate curiosity
Conversion → trial	20–30%	Assess launch success
NPS (first cohort)	>8	Test product-market fit

🧨 7. Expert Tips

- Post in first-person — founders connect with founders.
- Consistency = trust. Keep visual identity cohesive.
- Run polls to boost engagement.
- Short Looms > polished videos. Authentic wins.
- Use curiosity loops: "We tested this with 10 founders... results were wild 👀."

🎁 8. Optional Add-Ons (for Extra Hype)

- Public leaderboard for waitlist referrals.
- Mini challenge: "Generate your first founder post idea (beta)."
- Founders-only newsletter: share "build + marketing" lessons weekly.
- Community badge or Discord role for early adopters.

🌈 Final Words

> The magic of your launch will come from storytelling, transparency, and fun.
> Don't try to look big — look real, human, and obsessed with solving this problem.

Build hype by sharing your journey, not just the product.
